

Border-Lock impression trays - developed by Prof. Schreinemakers

An innovation based on the well known Schreinemakers metal impression trays. The Border-Lock trays have similar sizes and indications.

The closed Border-Lock impression tray of Prof. Schreinemakers has been developed as alternative for the Rim-Lock tray. The Border-Lock trays are specially designed for precision impressions using the monophasic or sandwich impression technique.

The trays have a patented retention system: the Border-Locks. The correct fitting tray is selected hygienically and quickly with the special divider and size chart. The trays are developed for the 3 different arch types: Normal, Square and Gothic. As a result the development of dynamic pressure is optimal.

With the monophasic and sandwich impression technique the development of sufficient dynamic pressure is essential to press the impression material into the sulcus.

Because of the vestibular border the impression material will fill the transverse rectal fold both labial as buccal.

The influence of resorption is virtually eliminated because of the distal position of the lower tray.

Autoclavable Border-Lock impression trays for dentulous jaws

Area of use
